Appendix figures A1 to A7, inclusive, illustrate typical chipped stone implements bearing usewear, from the Meier and Cathlapotle sites. Each lithic item is drawn at 1:1 scale, with an indication of the location of wear added on the margin. The numerical polar coordinate system around each image is used in notations on the lithic item when it is being examined.

The drawings were done digitally as I recorded usewear variables with a computer program I developed in the Apple / Macintosh 'Hypertalk' language. This program considerably organized and eased data recording and handling.
