Portland State University

Portland State University, Oregon's only urban university, is the largest and most diverse in the state system. The University's position in Oregon's economic and cultural center allows for deep community engagement and the creation of partnerships with hundreds of organizations throughout the region—partnerships that give PSU students valuable learning opportunities as they solve real-world problems of business and community. Portland State offers more than 100 undergraduate, master's, and doctoral degrees, as well as graduate certificates and continuing education programs. PSU serves more students and confers more master's degrees annually than any other Oregon university.

Conference facilities

PSU's University Place provides conference and meeting facilities for groups as small as five and as large as 400. The 8,000-square feet of meeting and banquet space include eight meeting rooms and a 3,793-square-foot ballroom. Rooms are equipped with flexible sound systems, adjustable lighting, and telephone outlets. Meetings are staffed by professional conference services personnel, including A/V technicians. Our Business Center offers copier, fax machines, and high-speed Internet access.
