

ARGENTINA | ROSARIO

Study Abroad in 2007

$6,989 program fee includes:

Tuition

Program excursions

Local transportation pass

Medical Insurance

Housing with a local family

Three meals per day

Orientation

Expert support from AHA Student Services Staff

"It's a very positive experience for anyone willing to take on the challenge."

*-Lisa Domenico
Portland State University*

Program Dates: March 21 - June 23, 2007

Join Alan Yeakley, PSU Professor of Environmental Sciences

Courses include:

Environmental Sustainability in Argentina

Discover the theoretical basis for understanding sustainability of natural and human-influenced ecosystems, including natural processes of change in ecological systems, interactions between ecological and social systems, and ecosystem management and restoration. Investigate the sustainable attributes of various ecosystems in their natural settings during program excursions.

Environmental Sustainability of Argentine Cities

Explore sustainability of urban environments, including ecological processes that persist in cities, interactions between ecological and social systems in urban environments, and management and restoration of natural areas in cities. Explore the factors in cities that either create instability or foster sustainability of urban environments.

For more information visit www.ahastudyabroad.org or contact:

Alyse Collins, PSU Education Abroad

E ayc@pdx.edu

P 503.725.8256

