~~Struckthrough text like this~~ = a topic / activity that was proposed but not included / is not going to be taken up after all*Italic text like this = comments after the meeting*

	Main topic(s): Rubrics; Teaching and Testing Writing
(10)	(possibly a regular feature:) assessment in the news! update on Washington (state) K-12 tests - math and reading are going on-line in some districts; while we're up in Washington, a look at the state of German programs in their high schools (0774); if time: faculty review procedure in PSU FLL
(60)	rubrics: Basic level descriptors (0108, PPS - or maybe postpone till discussion of curricula & programs). Oral French Exam (0123); GER 101 Assignment 1; GER 101 Project 3 (Traumreise, includes work samples); GER 102 Project 1 (Einkaufen und Geschenke); upcoming GER 102 Oral Test (K11): K11 protocol (doc) & scoring guide (doc)
(10)	Potpourri: Two terms to conjure with: "curriculum-embedded" vs. "on demand", and what that says about assessment and the development of a first-year Swahili program. Scratching the itch: How we love to focus on higher-level proficiency - a ploy to obe-pray or-fay uper-say igh-hay language-lay (but how to set it up??)
(30)	Testing & teaching writing: initial discussion. Materials: ACTFL Guidelines for Writing (0013); outstanding article about teaching writing (Barnett, 0009)

Upcoming class meetings

9 & 11 Feb.: assessing writing (L2, of course; but how about L1?); teaching writing; much more about rubrics (and an assignment to create one); course, curriculum, program assessment; thinking about the BIMP

Upcoming assignment(s)

This section offers a PREVIEW, not activated assignments. Assignments are made, with announcement of their deadlines, both in class and on the "schedule" page.

By now you should have conducted at least one pseudo-OPI
next week: a scoring guide assignment

Schools to try out online progress tests

Washington officials say 364 middle schools will conduct state achievement tests online this spring.

The new tests, called the Measurements of Student Progress, are being tried in reading and math. They replace the Washington Assessment of Student Learning.

The schools in the pilot program will give one or both tests online for sixth- through eighth-graders. They represent about 27 percent of the state's schools with those grades.

Students at other schools will use pencil and paper to take the tests.

State Superintendent Randy Dorn called the online testing a major step forward.

WOU tops in raising minority grad rates

Western Oregon University led the nation in recent years in improving the graduation rate of its minority students, the Education Trust reported.

About 10 percent of Western's students belong to underrepresented minority groups: African American, Latino and Native American. The six-year graduation rate for those groups at the Monmouth school collectively jumped from 17.5 percent in
