(5) Review of previous meeting: main points; thoughts in the meantime? NOTE: It has not been necessary to review each meeting, so this feature is going away as of today. But I would like to spend a few minutes reflecting about where we are now in comparison to the first day of the course.
(5) (possibly a regular feature:) assessment (or language learning or just education) in the news! (If I can find something). Today: PPS and textbooks (0909) LAZ; course evals
(30) PPS second/world language standards (0010a)
(20) Assessing and teaching writing. Query: What are the text type, function(s), context(s), and accuracies of the various writing activities in textbooks?; (0278) a literary interpretation scale (presumably for speaking as well as writing); setup for FLL 2002 assessment of 300-level writing proficiency (0313)
(20) more about rubrics: scoring guide for group projects (0908), and a bigger question: Could this rubric also evaluate good language learning? multiskill/ multi-person activities (projects, teamwork); GER 102 Project 1 (Einkaufen und Geschenke; also work samples 0777a • 0777b • 0777c • 0777d • 0777e • 0777f)
(10) Two generic scoring guides for language activities: 1) reading a dialog aloud; 2) global prochievement SG - for just about anything.
(10) Assignment 4: scoring guide for a language activity We need to streamline this, and I welcome suggestions. Of course, if we had a mid-term... Or maybe we could do a group brainstorm and declare victory after 15 minutes... Or you could start with one of my tests and create the scoring guide for it...

 have a discussion
 + own ideas
 + writing tasks

Upcoming class meetings

At least another week about rubrics, but also while we're looking at testing in other language modalities. Examples will probably be the GER 103 final
