

Sign in | Register for free
Sign in with Facebook

Site Search Search Local Business Listings
 Search for keywords, people, locations, obituaries, Web ID and more... Go

- Home
- News
- Opinion
- Sports
- Entertainment
- Living
- Interact
- Jobs
- Autos
- Real Estate
- Rentals
- Classified Ads
- Shop

AP NEWS

Latest local, national & international news from The Associated Press

Corvallis couple piece together puzzles for kids

Dec. 25, 2010, 12:01 a.m. PST
 Associated Press

NEWS CATEGORIES

- Business
- Entertainment
- Health
- National
- Oregon News
- Politics
- Technology
- Washington D.C.
- Washington state news
- World

SPORTS

- Sports headlines
- Boxing
- MLB Baseball
- NBA Basketball
- NCAA Basketball
- NCAA Football
- NFL Football
- OSU Beavers
- Oregon Ducks
- Oregon HS Sports
- Oregon Sports
- PSU Vikings
- Portland Pilots
- Portland Timbers
- Portland Trail Blazers
- Seattle Mariners
- Seattle Seahawks
- Soccer
- Tennis

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Marvin and Margaret Jack first started making puzzles in the early 1980s with a single pedal-powered scroll saw. In the decades since, their product line of custom-made puzzles hasn't changed much; but their business has grown.

Still popular are wooden puzzles ranging from simple peg puzzles for $17 to a complex 13-layer jungle masterpiece that sells for $700. Another favorite is a detailed puzzle of monarch butterflies with two layers, for $300.

At any time, the Jacks have about 25 puzzle designs available.

"We try to have something for everybody," Marvin, 56, said. The cost is mostly labor, to painstakingly cut and paint by hand. Each ends up both a piece of art and a toy.

They built up the business out of their south Corvallis house and shop while raising their two children, Alleya and Noah.

The business' reputation grew along with the children, and now the Jacks produce more than 3,000 puzzles a year under the name Kid Puzzles. Some sell locally, but many more are shipped to customers across the United States and Canada.

The work happens in a shop next to the Jacks' house on Crystal Lake Drive in south Corvallis. They use a scroll saw to cut puzzle pieces and a shaper to finish the edges in one room. The other side of the building, accessed through a storage room packed with inventory, is a painting space complete with a ventilated hood for spray painting, drying racks and a design table with a light box.

Customized puzzles that include the recipients name spelled out in puzzle pieces are a top seller.

"That's probably half our business," Margaret, 53, said.

The longest first name the couple will put on a puzzle is 11 letters, such as "CHRISTOPHER."

This year's most popular name might be Avery. Out of an order for about 100 puzzles earlier this fall, 10 were Averages — "From all over the country," Margaret said.

The couple also recently started making three-name puzzles and puzzle stools, which proved to be popular. Marvin said about 30 have sold in the past month for about $50 each.

"It was pretty encouraging," he said.

Marvin does most of the designing and all the cutting. Margaret does all the painting.

"There's a lot of detail in what she does," Marvin said.

The couple travels the festival and craft fair circuit each year, ranging from their booth to the Corvallis Fall Festival and throughout Colorado, Wyoming,

JIMMY MAK'S
 "One of the world's top 100 places to hear jazz."
 — Down Beat Magazine

Friday, January 7th
 An evening with Eddie Henderson
 and The Peter Boe Trio
www.jimmymaks.com

Most Commented Stories

Oregon Local News stories with the most comments in the last 7 days.

- 143 comments
Police shoot man in SW Portland who was pacing with a machete
- 137 comments
Shots fired seconds after Portland police contacted machete-wielding man
- 92 comments
Case-Shiller index: Home prices falling in Portland, other big U.S. cities
- 91 comments
Marcus Lagozzino, hit by at least 3 police AR-15 rifle rounds, is upgraded to serious condition
- 59 comments
Priest sues Mt. Angel Abbey for more than \$1 million for sexual mistreatment that he says led to a lifetime of pain

Come Celebrate
New Year's Eve with us
Special Dinner Package only
$34.95 per person

Click here for more details

Idaho, Utah and Arizona to as far away as New Orleans and Pennsylvania.

They combine work with pleasure, camping and kayaking. Marvin often seeks out contra dances during their travels — another passion.

They've been on the festival circuit for so long, they're now making puzzles for the children of the children who once received one from them. Adult customers tell them that although they've thrown out many of their childhood toys, they still own the puzzles that the Jacks made.

Maybe that's because even the puzzles' makers find them tough to solve. In fact, one of their pet peeves is when someone knocks over a puzzle at their festival booth.

"Then you have to spend the whole afternoon putting it back together," Marvin said.

Making the puzzles also is time-consuming. The Jacks have a sign in their workshop, noting that the minimum hourly wage is $8.40.

"It's the wage we're really shooting for," Marvin deadpanned.

The couple has finished producing puzzles for the holiday rush. Now they will fill online orders and stockpile puzzles for next spring's festival season.

Marvin has begun work on a new series of bird-themed designs including a Sandhill Crane, pelican and blue heron. The couple also recently donated about 80 extra puzzles to Vina Moses, as they do every year at this time.

Site Search Search Local Business Listings
Site Map | Advertise | Contact us
▶ Make us your home page

Home | News | Weather | Sports | Entertainment | Living | Interact | Jobs | Autos | Real Estate | Rentals | Classified Ads | Shopping

- Your Photos
- Your Videos
- Blogs
- Forums
- Travel
- Music

- Post a job
- Post a free classified ad
- Sell your car
- Sell/rent your home
- Apartments & rentals
- Claim your Business Listing for free

- Obits / Death Notices
- Business News
- Environmental News
- Contests
- Dining
- Movies

-  Subscribe to our content \(RSS\)
-  News alerts | Sports alerts
-  Twitter feed
-  OregonLive.com Multimedia
-  View OregonLive.com mobile site
-  View mobile product offerings

 The Oregonian - The Oregonian Business Center | Hillsboro Argus

© 2010 Oregon Live LLC. All Rights Reserved (About Us). Use of this site constitutes acceptance of our User Agreement. Please read our Privacy Policy. Community Rules apply to all content you upload or otherwise submit to this site. Contact interactivity management.

26 Dec 10
D2

Marvin and Margaret Jack have been making wooden puzzles in their Corvallis workshop since the early 1980s. The Jacks sell the puzzles from their website and at art and craft fairs around the western United States.

ANDY CRIFE
CORVALLIS
GAZETTE-TIMES

Pieces have fallen into place for Corvallis puzzle makers

Wooden toys | The Jacks of Corvallis have watched their business grow since the 1980s

By NANCY RASKAUSKAS
GAZETTE-TIMES

CORVALLIS — Marvin and Margaret Jack first started making puzzles in the early 1980s with a single pedal-powered scroll saw. In the decades since, their product line of custom-made puzzles hasn't changed much, but their business has grown.

Still popular are wooden puzzles ranging from simple peg puzzles for $17 to a complex 13-layer jungle masterpiece that sells for $700. Another favorite is a detailed puzzle of monarch butterflies with two layers, for $300.

At any time, the Jacks have about 25 puzzle designs available.

"We try to have something for everybody," Marvin, 56, said. The cost is mostly labor, to painstakingly cut and paint by hand. Each ends up both a piece of art and a toy.

They built up the business out of their south Corvallis house and shop while raising their two children, Alleya and Noah.

The business' reputation grew along with the children, and now the Jacks produce more than 3,000 puzzles a year under the name Kid Puzzles. Some sell locally, but many more are shipped to customers across the United States and Canada.

The work happens in a shop next to the Jacks' house on Crystal Lake Drive. In one room, they use a scroll saw to cut puzzle pieces and a shaper to finish the edges. The other side of the building, accessed through a storage room packed with inventory, is a painting space complete with a ventilated hood for spray-painting, drying racks and a design table with a light box.

Marvin does most of the designing and all the cutting. Margaret does all the painting.

"There's a lot of detail in what she does," Marvin said.

The couple travel the festival and craft fair circuit each year, ranging from the Corvallis Fall Festival and throughout Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah and Arizona to as far away as New Orleans and Pennsylvania.

They've been on the festival circuit for so long, they now make puzzles for the children of the children who once received one. Adult customers tell them that although they've thrown out many of their childhood toys, they still own the puzzles that the Jacks made.

Maybe that's because even the puzzles' makers find them tough to solve. In fact, one of their pet peeves is when someone knocks over a puzzle at their festival booth.

"Then you have to spend the whole afternoon putting it back together," Marvin said.