OTHER RESEARCH AND OTHER CREATIVE ACHIEVEMENTS

American nationalism and peace-building challenges

Currently researching the configurations and functions of American nationalism and peace-building challenges in US foreign policy.

Idea of Ministry of Peace

Researching ideas and structures of a Ministry of Peace as a missing department of nation states.

“The Cyprus Symposium” data

Currently compiling and synthesizing the outcomes of the “The Cyprus Symposium: Reviving Peace Building in Cyprus,” providing perspectives and data for analysis and research. The result of a weeklong interactive management and research workshop at Portland State University that brought together Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot politicians, business persons, academics, scientists, journalists and educators from Cyprus, Europe, the USA and Canada. 2007.

World Values Survey: Cyprus 2006

Co-investigator (with Dr Birol Yesilada (Principal Investigator) and two local scientists in Cyprus, conducted the first application of The World Values Survey (WVS) to Cyprus. The WVS is a worldwide investigation of socio-cultural and political change. It involves 99 countries and territories and is the world’s most comprehensive look at peoples’ values and beliefs. The WVS – Cyprus 2006 is the first such study in Cyprus. The research team conducted a comprehensive survey of 600 Greek Cypriot and 500 Turkish Cypriots in face to face interviews that covered 259 questions of the WVS and a side study of 10 Cyprus specific questions pertaining to peoples’ preferences regarding ways in which the Cyprus problem can be resolved.

Gender differences in adversarial perceptions

“Gender Differences in the Communication of Empathy Toward Perceived Adversarial Groups: A Comparative Study of East and West Coast” (with Dr. Andreas Anastasiou and Dr. Alice Araujo). On-going research since November 2006.

Bounded rationality analysis

Co-investigator with Yesilada, B., Kugler, J., Anastasiou, H., Sozen, A., Efird, B. A Bounded Rationality Analysis of the Cyprus Problem. Over a period of time, employed time-sensitive research methodology that utilized an agent-based model to analyze the political debate on the core issues of the Cyprus problem among all involved stakeholders (Greek Cypriots, Turkish Cypriots, Greek and Turkish governments, parties, media, labor unions, various civil society organizations, and international agents such as the EU, UN, and USA). The methodology combined game theory, decision theory (bounded rationality), risk, and spatial bargaining, providing predictions based on an explanation of how policy positions of competing interests evolve over time. May 2003; December 2003; February 2004; March 2004.

National Radio Program

Directed and co-produced a ten-month long weekly radio program “Journey into Cyberspace” for Radio Astra (national) focusing on technological advancement, social change and peace issues. Nicosia, Cyprus, 1996.

5. Peace-related leadership activities

Provided leadership in fostering, organizing and promoting Greek-Turkish interethnic rapprochement at the local national and international levels. 1990s to present.

Core leader in the Cyprus peace movement, a citizen based, peace-building initiative aiming at enhancing rapprochement across the buffer zone of the ethnically divided island of Cyprus. Together with a core of prominent committed citizens, have promoted peace-enhancing activities, events, workshops, conferences, seminars and media presentations, for the purpose of engaging citizens and policy leaders from the rival ethnic communities in an on-going, conflict-resolution process of constructive dialogue and cooperation around issues and projects relevant to building a common culture of peace. In recent years these activities have been extended to the regional level to Cyprus, Greece and Turkey. These activities were supported and funded by US institutions, the European Union, the Swiss government and others. The results of these efforts have been commended repeatedly by United Nations officials, and have been referred to as signposts for the whole island of Cyprus in Security Council Resolutions on the Cyprus problem. 1990-2002.

In regard to the above activities, have maintained close contacts with the Ambassadors and relevant Embassy personnel of the United States and of the European Union in Cyprus. Over the years, through the support of the US Embassy and EU Delegation in Cyprus have been engaged both formally and informally, in facilitating, diagnosing and contributing to inter-ethnic rapprochement initiatives that have been supported and/or funded by third parties. Some of these activities entailed a number of visits to Brussels and Strasburg, for the purpose of exposing Greek and Turkish Cypriots citizens and policy leaders to European Union, multi-ethnic political institutions and values. Have been actively engaged at the forefront of these activities, mainly as an initiator and as a facilitator.

As a Greek Cypriot, invited by the Turkish Cypriot Businessmen's Association to cross the buffer zone into the "enemy camp" and delivered a public speech on "Confidence Building Between the Two Communities”. The event took place in the Turkish sector of the divided city of Nicosia. This cross visit was one of the first of its kind. 1994.

Extensive visits in countries of the Eastern Mediterranean, Europe and the United States for the purpose of conflict-resolution and peace-related activities, workshops and seminars, 1992-2002.
